

GOSSIP OF THE SPORTS

NEWS OF THE BALL FIELD, TRACK AND PRIZE RING.

WASHINGTON LOSES AGAIN.

And is Now in Third Place—McCaffrey Beats Rocco—Russell Wins the American Stakes.

ON THE DIAMOND.

Washington Team Again and Now Occupies Third Place.

The Washington glided further down the graded toboggan slide, the other Atlantic teams have prepared for it, and it now occupies third place, Baltimore going ahead of it, simply by not playing. The boys could not hit the ball and were easily outbatted and outfielded. Sullivan made a score after the game with Valentine, whom he accused of partiality in his decisions, but immediately cooled down and apologized for attempting to strike the umpire.

Constant defeats seem to have a rather bad effect on Ted, who is usually a stable and even tempered, and it is to be regretted that he lost his temper on this occasion.

The club plays the Jersey City team again to-day, and with Phillips in the line, it should be able to win the game. It is hoped it will at all events, for these constant defeats make it seem to be altogether too monotonous.

VERY PROBABLY DECEASED.

For some time past Harry Wright, the veteran manager of the Philadelphia Club, has been ill and confined to his house. The Brotherhood Club announced that it would play a game for his benefit, whereupon Mr. John L. Rogers, acting for the Misses Wright, declined the offer and refused the use of Manager Wright's name for any such purpose. As Mr. Wright was in too precarious a condition to be spoken to, his daughters acted for him and very properly declined the offer. Mr. Wright is threatened with total blindness, and the disease is thought to be catarrh of the eye-balls, which are very much affected with inflammation and fever. Mrs. Wright is also seriously ill.

A NEW PITCHER SECURED.

Club, the well-known Pittsburgh pitcher, who was recently released by that club, has been secured for the Washington Club. He is an excellent twirler and his release was owing to a disagreement between himself and Manager Hecker.

IN THE PADDOCK.

Russell Wins the $20,000 Race at the Gravesend Track.

The Great American stakes for two-year-olds, with a guarantee value of $20,000, was run at Gravesend yesterday. The track was heavy, and Russell, with Garrison up, won handily by six lengths. Correction, his stable companion, being second. There was a long delay at the start, and every jockey but Garrison was fined $100. The start was a poor one, and half the horses were left at the post. Amoris made the running for the Morris pair until the stretch, when Garrison let the colt out and won easily.

THE NEW YORK HANDICAP.

The following weights were laid last night for the great New York Jockey Club Handicap, $50,000 added, which will be run at New York, July 1st, 1890: Kingston, 130; Barclay, 127; Finesse, 126; Salvator, 126; Hanover, 123; Exile, Prince Royal, 121; Longstreet, 121; Ascarita, 117; Fox Trot, 116; Sir Dixon, Bubbler, 116; Dumbboy, 116; Jockey, 114; Crackman, 113; Monro, 113; Hinkley, 113; The Duke, 112; Taragon, 112; Queen of the Year, 112; Lady, 112; Lavinia Belle, 110; Madstone, 110; Brother Jack, 107; Earl Charles, 107; Onyx, 106; The Duke, 106; Retriever, 106; Brown Prince, 105; Pitts, James, 105; Sir Luma, 104; Jabel, Carroll, 103; Juggler, 103; Sir, 103; Bubbler, 103; Dumbboy, 102; Jockey, 102; King Thomas, 99; Experience and Tormentor, 98; Amigo, 97; Persuasion, Viking, 94.

AROUND THE RING.

Wearers of Mittens Who Fight and Talk Fight.

An ambitious youngster named Ed. Rocco, who seemed to have a mortal fear of being hit, stood up before Dominick McCaffrey last night. He asked McCaffrey to spar lightly with him, but the latter did not propose to give him a reputation by any such means, so in the second round he gave him a punch in the jaw that took all the fight out of him. Thereupon Rocco wanted to quit, but was finally induced to go ahead and finish the bout on McCaffrey's promise that he would not use the glove, but would use his fists. The audience, who wanted to see a knock out, Rocco had no business going against McCaffrey and then pleading the baby act, and it would have served him right if Dominick had knocked him out.

The other set to between Hagan and Young was decidedly more interesting. Hagan had the advantage of weight and easily outbatted Young, but Billy did some excellent work, and gave a good scientific exhibition. Hagan gave him a couple of body blows that evidently caused distress, but towards the last Young recovered himself and the two went at it hammer and tongs for the remainder of the bout.

To-night Jack Hart of Philadelphia and Wilson of Henrich's Brewery will wrestle two falls at Kean's Theatre. Wilson is a local wrestler of considerable ability and a giant in size. The match will undoubtedly prove a good one and will be an excellent exhibition. The style is to be catch as catch can.

AN OLD VETERAN TALKS.

Billy McMillan and the writer were watching the contest at Kean's last night when they were joined by one of the old veterans of the ring, the man who formerly managed Sam Collier, and whose fighting experiences go back to the sixties.

We were talking of the Sullivan fight and the old veteran remarked that the man who was the P. K. formerly received was gone.

When I managed the Collier-Aaron fight at Aquia Creek, we had a lot of sportsmen built and crowd. The whole people at Aquia Creek were there, and a fortune there would be in prize-fighting if we could only run it in some such style as that now. But we can't, it is too badly.

By the way, I tell you how Aaron whipped Collier that day. No! Well, here goes. One of Collier's eyes was pretty much swollen and he couldn't see much out of it. The other was all right, but in the last round Collier went through the ropes, and when he got up we had to lead him to his corner. We were totally blind. I was satisfied some kind of trickery had been played

A REMARKABLE STORY.

How a Ten-Year-Old Child Tried to Play Off a Trick.

HARTFORD, N. C., May 28.—Twelve months ago James Dillon, a well-known citizen of Tyrrel County, insured his life for $5,000 in the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. Some time after he fell from a boat half a mile from shore, and lay helplessly for help to a small quarter of a mile away. When the man responded Dillon secretly swam ashore, and could not be seen. The man whose assistance he had asked supposed he was drowned, and was perfectly willing to swear to it. Notice of Dillon's death was sent to the company. It refused to pay the insurance.

Action was brought by Dillon's wife and the case stood for trial at the court last week. The widow alleged that her husband was found near the place where he had been seen to sink in the water. The body was identified by twenty-five people as that of Dillon. At court convened for the wife took a non-suit because the body had been found. There is no doubt that the company would have paid the money, but last Friday, to the surprise of every one, Dillon himself returned safe and sound to Columbia.

His statement is most remarkable. He says he swam ashore the day he overheard the trial, put his hat in it and left the boat half full of water. He determined to hide in the woods so that his wife could get the insurance money. He kept in the great swamps for five weeks, and then the body of a drowned man floating in the Rappahannock River. He removed the hat from the head so as to make it bald, and taking his own hair and whiskers and put them in the place of the hair of the corpse. He knuckled out the front teeth of the dead man, and removing the clothing from the corpse, dressed it in the clothes he had worn on the day of his disappearance. At night he crept the body to the place where he was supposed to have been drowned. Subsequently hearing of the non-suit, he thought it put an end to his claim and that there was no hope of collecting the money, and so he returned home.

THE LAST DAY ON EARTH.

Everything in readiness for Benjamin Hawkins' Execution to-morrow.

Everything is in readiness for the hanging of Benjamin Hawkins at the District Jail to-morrow about noon. The dinner Hawkins eats to-day will be his last on earth, and his slumbers to-night will be continued to-morrow night in eternity.

The fatal noose has been adjusted and the scaffold-tree is already blossoming with fruit to-morrow. The dim and cheerless corridor leading to the great oak scaffold is draped in sombre black, and adds a hundred-fold to the dreariness of the place.

Rev. Mr. Robert, the condemned man's spiritual adviser, was with him to-day and will remain at the jail during the few fleeting hours that intervene between time and eternity, so far as Hawkins is concerned. The veteran hangman, Sam Strong, bustled around the great stone structure to-day and a grim smile overspread his countenance as he gazed at the place where one full of ghastly and uncanny suggestions. He was bustling around to see that the unflinching engine of death was in perfect readiness for to-morrow's work.

The death-watch will be on his vigils all night, and his eyes will not be removed from the doomed man until he is laid in solemn procession to the scaffold.

Hawkins still maintains that he did not kill his wife on purpose. Whether he will weaken at the ninety-ninth hour is not known.

In moving all the prisoners in the corridor, the windows of which face the scaffold, will be removed to other tiers and all will be locked in their cells during the death ceremonies.

SUCCESSFUL WASHINGTON BIDDERS.

A Quarter of a Million in Contracts Awarded To-day.

Contracts for supplies for the Post-office Department and postal service generally, amounting to about a quarter of a million dollars, were awarded to-day, the successful bidders being mainly Washington contractors.

The Washington men are as follows: E. Morrison, for writing paper, card-board, pencils and other stationery; William Ballantyne & Son, stationery; Easton & Burp, for printing; C. A. Adison, stationery supplies; E. G. Hinkle, packing boxes; M. & P. Metzger, rubber bands; W. H. Tappe, rubber pens; Woodward & Lothrop, inkstands, pens, etc.; Tiscot & Schultz, steel erasers; Wycoff, Seamans & Benedict, typewriters; J. C. Parker, blank books, etc.; Henry Clarke & Son, type-writer paper; Herman Baumgarten, rubber stamps, etc.

The President's party will leave Washington for Cleveland at 8 o'clock to-day evening, for Cleveland to take part in the Garfield monument celebration on Decoration Day. The party will consist of President Harrison, Vice-President Morton, Secretaries Blair, Windom and Husk and Attorney-General Miller. They will return Friday evening.

The President's Summer Outing. It is denied at the White House that the President and family will spend the summer at Cape May. Mrs. Harrison expects to visit there for a few days, but the family plans for the summer have not yet been decided upon. It is a shrewd surmise, however, that Deer Park will again be the "Summer Capital."

Meat was once Jewish food; Jew and Gentile alike use it. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Salvation Oil—Twenty-five cents a bottle is the price of this marvelous remedy. Try it.

Cross Refused a New Trial.

In the Criminal Court to-day Judge Bingham overruled the motion for a new trial for W. D. Cross, convicted of the murder of his wife, Hettie Cross, by counsel, C. Maurice Smith, will now go to the Court in General Term on exceptions. Cross felt confident that he would be granted a new trial, and is very much disappointed over the result.

THE DOCTOR WAS FAMILIAR.

No Says Mrs. Riney, and Dr. Barnitz is in Trouble.

Delaware, N. J., May 28.—The arrest of Dr. J. W. Barnitz, a wealthy physician, on a charge of undue familiarity with Mrs. Lizzie Riney, the wife of William Riney, one of the Doctor's tenants, has created a sensation here. The Doctor lives in fine style on the Delaware just above this place, and last winter Riney and his wife moved into one of the houses on his tract and began work for him. Mrs. Riney, a testimony before Judge Rhodes, at Riverdale, tells the story of the alleged assaults.

"The first time," said the plaintiff, a prepossessing woman of medium stature, "was the night we moved upon Dr. Barnitz's place. Our house was not quite ready and we stopped at the doctor's. While my husband and myself were in the sitting-room, it was quite dark, and Dr. Barnitz attempted liberties with me."

"Oh, doctor!" I cried, and my husband jumped up, but matters were smoothed over. The day in April Dr. Barnitz came to our house. His wife and daughter had gone to Burlington and my husband was out at work. "Have you seen my wife?" asked the doctor.

"She has gone to Burlington," I said. "Well, I think I will have to get a new wife. Don't you think we would make a good match?" said the Doctor, laughing. Then he came toward me and kissed me, and did other wrong things. I told my husband when I came home, and he wanted to whip the doctor, and the same night he told him not to, out of consideration for Mrs. Barnitz and her daughter."

"Why did you not make complaint before this?" asked Counselor Jones, who appeared for the Doctor. "Because I thought so much of Mrs. Barnitz," replied Mrs. Riney. The doctor was held in $1,000 bail for his appearance at the September term of court. He insists that the charge is trumped up because he compelled the Rineys to leave his property, and for purposes of blackmail. The doctor is 50 years old, comes of an excellent family, and stands well socially.

A COWARDLY DEED.

A Well-Known Merchant Assassinated by Unknown Persons.

JACKSON, Miss., May 28.—Mr. A. M. Kimball, a prominent merchant of this city, was assassinated near his residence early yesterday morning. The killing was done with a stick or some blunt instrument.

The key to his store was missing and the store had been broken open, but nothing missing could be discovered. One theory is that Kimball caught burglars in the act of robbing his store and the killing was the result. The family do not share in this theory, but have one of their own, which they refuse to divulge.

After the war Mr. Kimball was public agent of Mississippi. He was afterwards connected with several newspapers in this city. Later he was receiver of public moneys under Grant's administration.

BLAIN WILL NOT RUN.

He Has Given Up All Idea of Being a Candidate for President.

New York, May 28.—The World's Portland, Me., special says that, as the result of conversations with the men most intimate with Mr. Blaine, it can be confidently stated that he has given up all idea of ever being a candidate for President again. His personal following will support Harrison, if the latter seeks a re-nomination in 1892.

"Decoration Day."

The Crawford Shoe Store will be closed all day; open Thursday night until 11 o'clock.

Stabbed to Death with a Needle.

New York, May 28.—The trial of Gerald Compagnone, who is charged with the murder of Raphael Rocco on February 2 last, was begun here yesterday. Both men were laborers on the aqueduct and lived in a shanty, together with a number of other aliens. That night the occupants of the shanty were aroused from their drunken slumbers by cries from Rocco. They found him covered with wounds inflicted by a long needle. One of the wounds had penetrated his heart and he died in a few minutes. Compagnone fled, but was captured in Brooklyn.

On to Richmond!

The Confederate Veterans of this city, to the number of about 100, accompanied by about 300 friends, left on the 11 o'clock Midland train to-day for Richmond to take part in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the Lee statue to-morrow. They were the old Confederate gray soldiers and carried cases of these gray followers of the lost cause marched to the depot they elicited many complimentary remarks on their steady and stalwart appearance. During the early morning hours the streets were thronged with Baltimore ex-Confederates, who were on their way to Richmond to pay tribute to their departed chieftain.
